ARTISTS STATEMENTS (excerpts)

Beto Gayoso

... I decide to choose the act of painting as a communication method that lasts in time, in which the layers, the time, and the trace of a great event can be revealed. The accumulation of skins of drawings and paintings allows me to go back in time and freely choose the path that I consider can build a sincere expression ...

Claire Murray

... There is no attempt to recreate a perfect 'scene', but to convey textures, colour palette and light of exterior (and sometimes interior) spaces we all recognise, remember or imagine. I explore ideas of exposure and sanctuary, the idea that the landscape is at once beautiful, safe, romantic and soft, but also treacherous, sinister and often dangerous. Dangerous conditions masquerading as beauty. The elements: water, earth, air and sky are present in almost all of the pieces, suggesting a natural order, balance, drama and fragility of our environment.
